Florida's Public Records Law, Chapter 119, Florida Statutes, requires that records which are made or received in connection with the transaction of official business by any "agency" must be open for inspection and copying in the absence of a statute exempting such records or making such records confidential. As such, the City of Sunny Isles Beach provides for the copying of certain copyright protected documents. However, the copyright law of the United States (title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specific conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

Further, the City reserves the rights to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.
